The National Real Estate Journal

¶ The National Real Estate Journal has created a decided stir in real estate circles. It has been widely read, widely quoted and widely talked about by real estate men everywhere.

¶ It has, by virtue of being the official organ of the National Association of Real Estate Exchanges, assumed its position of leadership in the real estate field, and is rapidly establishing its reputation for progressiveness and for filling its pages with the best, most interesting, entertaining and valuable information pertaining to the real estate profession.

¶ The National Real Estate Journal is a real estate institution. If you read it this year, you will want it next year, and the year after.

¶ The subscription price is $1.00 for the year—for 12 big, hearty, helpful numbers. Better send your dollar right now.

The Association of American Directory Publishers is composed of reputable City Directory Publishers, organized for the general advancement of the Directory business. Any person, corporation or firm engaged in business as owner and Publisher of a City Directory in the United States or Canada, who shall qualify as competent to gather information and compile a City Directory and furnish satisfactory references, is eligible to membership.

The objects of the Association are:

First. The advancement of the Directory business and the improvement of Directories by the interchange of ideas and the exchange of experienced employes.

Second. To provide protection to the public against fraudulent advertising schemes which operate under the name of Directories, and to drive unprincipled promoters of the same out of the business.

Third. To provide permanent and profitable employment to competent, industrious and honest Directory canvassers and compilers.

Fourth. For the mutual protection and advancement of the established and prospective interests of all who may become members, by personal advice and assistance of members as may be mutually satisfactory, desirable or advisable, and by such other means as may, from time to time, be shown to be wise, proper and lawful.

$100.00 Reward Will be paid by the Association for the arrest and conviction of any person or persons engaged in publishing, collecting or canvassing for any fraudulent or fake directory

INTRODUCTORY

1358789

There are listed in this directory 113,151 names, a gain of 3,049, as compared with the number in our directory of 1914.

We take pleasure in announcing this, as the large increase in the number of names listed represents a proportionate increase in the city's population.

By multiplying the number of names in this volume by 2½, a method that has been demonstrated to give a fair and conservative estimate of population, it is shown that the estimated population of Indianapolis is 282,877, a gain of 7,622, as compared with the estimate, based on the same method of computation, of the preceding year.

In addition to its fixed population, Indianapolis has an exceptionally large transient population, by reason of its many conventions, its central location and its transportation facilities. In connection with this, it might be interesting to note that during the year 1914 there were handled at the Indianapolis Traction Terminal Station, in and out, a total of 259,806 passenger cars, an average per day of 712 cars; and a total of 7,012,763 passengers, an average of 19,213 passengers per day. At the Union Station there were handled during the year, in and out, a total of 58,437 passenger trains, with a total number of 409,481 passenger cars.

It should be borne in mind that the growth of Indianapolis has been of a steady and substantial nature, due to its natural and acquired advantages, and not by reason of any campaign of expansion.

One of the features of this volume, which we introduced in our directory of 1914 and which has been warmly commended, is the street and avenue guide and directory of householders, page 1533 to page 1921. It gives not only, in alphabetical order, the names of the streets and avenues of the city, and, by means of key letters, the car line nearest any place, but also gives the number of each building on each street and avenue and, opposite the number, the name of the householder. In office buildings the occupant of each room and the number of the room are shown where practicable.

Other valuable features of this volume include the following: A carefully collected and compiled list of citizens, industrial and commercial enterprises; federal, state, county and city officials; office buildings and apartment houses; churches; schools; the various literary, patriotic, fraternal, benevolent and other organizations, and a classified business directory.

We maintain at our offices, 320-324, 8 East Market street, a directory library for the use of our patrons, and we are pleased to have them avail themselves of it or any other service at our command at any time.

In this library are directories of 250 of the leading cities and towns of the country, and in many ways these volumes have proven of considerable value to business and professional men of Indianapolis.

INDIANAPOLIS

Distinctions Which Give the City Supremacy as a Modern Progressive American Community, Furnished and Compiled by the

Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce

Indianapolis is sixty miles from the center of population of the United States.

It is in the geographical center of manufacturing of the United States.

It is in population, transportation facilities and volume of business transacted the largest inland city, not on a navigable stream, in the United States.

It has a population of 282,877, with more than 2,000,000 people living within two hours' ride of the city.

It is the capital of Indiana and in the geographical center of the state, with railroad or electric railway connections with every county in the state.

It has an area of 36 square miles.

It is the seat of the following state institutions: Indiana State Fair, Indiana School for the Blind, Indiana School for the Deaf, School of Medicine of Indiana University, the Indiana Girls' School, the Indiana Woman's Prison, the Central Hospital for the Insane.

It has more than 1,200 factories, with 33,000 skilled mechanics employed.

It has twenty-six parks, nearly all public, with 3,000 acres.

It has seventeen steam railroads, connecting directly with all the great cities of the Central West, and also with Washington, Philadelphia, New York and Boston.

It has six electric interurban systems, made up of thirteen lines, which in 1914 carried 7,012,763 passengers to and from the city, an average of 19,213 a day, 712 passenger cars being handled each day in the largest and most pretentious interurban station in the United States. Freight cars to the number of 23,501 were also handled by this station.

It has three direct steam roads to the coal fields of Indiana.

It has two steam roads direct to the stone quarries of southern Indiana.

In the output of automobiles it is the second city of America.

It has the greatest motor speedway in the world. The largest paid admission to any sporting event in the history of the world was at the Speedway in 1913.

It has one of the best mile tracks for the training and racing of trotting and pacing horses in America.

The total bank and trust company deposits in 1914 amounted to more than $65,000,000. The total resources of these concerns and of the building and savings associations for the year were $105,033,288.

The post office receipts last year amounted to $1,542,037.97.

The city has 200 wholesale and jobbing houses, representing all lines of trade, with a market extending well over the Central West.

Indianapolis importations last year amounted to $750,000.

It has 231 miles of permanently improved streets.

It has 168 miles of city electric car lines, operating over double tracks, with four-cent fare and universal transfers.

The total assessed valuation of Indianapolis property is $234,412,800.

The municipal bonded indebtedness is only $3,403,300.

The total tax rate for state, county, city, school and all other purposes is only $2.38 on each $100.

There were 5,664 births and 4,362 deaths in 1914.

Its building permits in 1914 amounted to $7,933,081.

Its real estate transfers in 1914 amounted to $25,000,000.

It has 332 miles of sewers.

It has 370 miles of water mains, using 23,000,000 gallons every day. The water supply is abundant and pure. No other city surpasses Indianapolis in the excellence of its water for both domestic and commercial purposes.

It has artificial gas at 55 cents a thousand feet, the scale decreasing to 40 cents for the large consumers. Indianapolis' cheap fuel is world-famous.

It has an unrivaled street lighting system.

It has 50,000 telephones, with long distance connections with city, town, and farm throughout the State.

It has one of the most beautiful and best appointed post office buildings in the United States, erected at a cost of $2,000,000.

It has the largest and most inspiring Soldiers' and Sailors' Monument in the world.

It has twenty-five modern office buildings, six to sixteen stories high, and more under construction.

It has a Y. M. C. A. building which the public erected at a cost of $250,000; a Y. W. C. A. building, which the public provided at a cost of $140,000, and recently completed a colored Y. M. C. A. building at a cost of $100,000.

It has 68 public and 3 high school buildings, valued at $4,500,000.

In the John Herron Art Institute, the city has one of the noted art museums of the United States.

In Fort Benjamin Harrison it has one of the largest United States army posts in the country.

It has 63 hotels, which afford living on any scale desired for conventions of any size.

It has exceptional facilities for national conventions and entertains several hundred thousand visitors every year.

It has one of the largest city market houses of the Middle West, which supplies the city with the best products of the country.

It is a city made up largely of home owners, many thousand families occupying their own property.

It is abundantly supplied with apartment houses, large and pretentious.

It is pre-eminently an industrial city because of its geographical location in relation to the general market, because of its exceptional shipping facilities, abundance of labor, the excellence of its labor conditions and the nearness of the fuel supply. Coal from the Indiana field is delivered to power plants at about $1.25 a ton.

It has several very large industrial buildings for small manufacturing concerns, which supply space, power and other facilities at reasonable cost.

It has a public library with immeasurable resources, with numerous branches over the city. The reference library in the Indiana State House is one of the largest and best organized to be found in any American commonwealth.

It is bountifully supplied with schools of music, art, for commercial training, and in medicine and dentistry.

It has in the Normal School of the North American Gymnastic Union one of the great training schools for physical directors.

It is generously supplied with pretentious club houses, gymnasiums, theaters, roof gardens.

It supports a public orchestra, numerous musical organizations and societies which are active in the cultural development of the people.

All in all, Indianapolis is in the fore rank as a delightful American city in which to live, for the spirit of its citizenship is always striving for the general advancement of the community, of the people, and of all civic and commercial interests.

At the Indianapolis stockyards in 1914 more than $60,000,000 worth of live stock was handled.

Indianapolis is the largest producer of hominy in America, only one other city being able to approach its record for this product.

The city is the greatest center for the manufacture of quartered oak veneer in the country.

THE SIGN OVER YOUR DOOR

Is a good thing, isn't it? You would not think of doing business without it. BUT IT IS ONLY SEEN BY THOSE WHO PASS YOUR WAY. If you could put a sign where every one could see it, would it interest you?

THE CITY DIRECTORY

Is where people look for you when they want to do business. You should make it easy for them to find you, by putting such information as a buyer wants in the Directory, properly indexed under all headings where he might look for you.

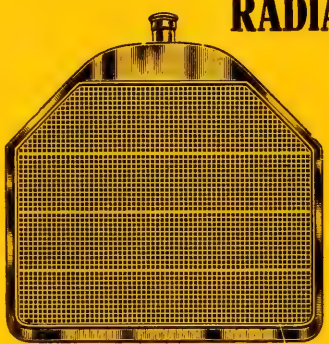
Leo Sliger's Patent Atomizing Carbureter

Beats All Others for

PULLING, SMOOTH RUNNING, QUICK ACTION AND MILEAGE

The Most Powerful Carbureter on Earth

Leo Sliger's Patent Atomizing Carbureter



No matter what Carbureter you have on your car, if you are only getting 8 or 10 miles per gallon of gasoline, take it off and put on the Atomizing Carbureter and get from 15 to 18 miles; if 12 or 13, the Atomizer will give you 18 to 25 miles. If a light car, like the Buick and similar light cars, the Atomizing Carbureter will give you from 25 to 30 miles per gallon of gasoline.

It Will Pay You to Change
